The CORALL Team
cordially invites you to the

CORALL Workshop for ALL
(Autonomous Language Learning)

Thursday, 17 September 2021

Why not register today to reserve your spot?   Click here to register here NOW!

- We welcome you all to this online and free event but, because we aim to keep you all involved, early registration might guarantee your participation.
- After the registration deadline (12 Sept.), registered participants will receive confirmation with a link to join the workshop in MS Teams.
- Because interaction and feedforward are greatly encouraged, please be prepared to dedicate the day, 9am-3pm CET, to the event.
- Participants who attend the whole workshop will receive a certificate of participation.

The one-day CORALL workshop will provide...

✔ a deeper understanding of autonomy in language learning
✔ an introduction to some practical modules to foster an autonomous learning profile
✔ an opportunity to discuss the importance of using reflective learning journals to enhance cognitive and metacognitive learning strategies
✔ insight into how knowledge about yourself as a learner helps you learn more effectively
✔ ideas for working with language for specific purposes
✔ provide practical insight into how to learn more deeply and with less frustration

This workshop is jointly hosted by the CORALL project team:

Budapest Business School, Hungary
Beuth University of Applied Sciences, Germany
Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences, Finland
University of Economics in Bratislava, Slovakia
Polytechnic Institute of Guarda, Portugal
Czech Technical University in Prague, the Czech Republic
